

INSURANCE COUNCIL OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Insurance Council of British Columbia (“Council”) is pleased to announce that Janet Sinclair has accepted the position of Executive Director of Council. Janet starts as the Executive Director on November 1, 2017.

---

Janet has extensive experience in the regulatory field, with 16 years of experience with the Association of Professional Engineers and Geoscientists, most recently as its Chief Operating Officer. Janet’s many strengths include communication; government relations; and creation of educational programs geared towards professional development. Janet’s extensive management and regulatory experience make her well suited for the role of Council’s Executive Director.

---

Janet Sinclair

Council is a regulatory body established under the Financial Institutions Act, responsible for the licensing and professional conduct of 38,000 insurance agents, adjusters, and salespersons doing business in British Columbia. Its mandate is to uphold the public interest in dealings with insurance licensees by promoting ethical and competent behaviour. Council consists of 11 voting members with representation from the life and property and casualty insurance industries, adjusters, and non-industry persons.